

Roy J. Snell

After spending three years exploring some of the most remote and wild places on earth, young Johnny Thompson returns to his home town of Chicago, only to have his pocket picked. He helps detective and friend Drew Lane catch the thieves, but his newfound interest in police work gets him ambushed by another set of criminals. Johnny decides he'd rather be out in the wilderness, but more mayhem moves him to stay until the bad guys can be captured.

Roy J. Snell

Read by Tom Penn. Total running time: 05:24:21

The Arrow of Fire

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover picture photograph Chicago at night 1920s. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Annise. This design is in the public domain.

The Arrow of Fire